Project Management Advisors, Inc. was retained by the Jewish Council for Youth Services (JCYS) to organize and manage the development process for their new family center and to augment their capabilities, which was comprised of volunteers with limited development experience, expertise, and time resources. Upon completion of fundraising, PMA resumed as the owner's representative for the design and construction phases of the revised program requirements. The completed development includes a childcare center including classrooms, multi-purpose rooms, office areas, a full gymnasium and exterior playground areas.
